ISTA Responsible Packaging by Design (RPbD) TRAINING

8:00am-3:00pm

ISTA will be offering a training program on the implementation of our Responsible Packaging by Design (RPbD) recommended guideline. This training will be followed by an exam which, if successfully passed, will lead to a certification in the use of the guideline. Whether seeking to test the waters, training to implement the program, or obtain a professional certificate, the RPbD training program can help you gain the skills and knowledge you need to build your company's reputation as an environmentally and socially conscious corporate citizen – and drive profitability. Larry Dull, ISTA's Lead Instructor will conduct the training.

- October 3, 2019

2019 Omni-Channel Packaging Strategies Conference

Why The Omni-Channel Packaging Strategies Conference? Driven by e-commerce, retail continues to change, and sales channels and traditional packaging continue to blur. The way product is sold and delivered to consumers is evolving at a rapid pace. New packaging solutions must be discovered or created for today's unified retail market that are both economically and environmentally sustainable. If packaged-product designs don't evolve, damage and waste in distribution will continue to grow. This conference is a forum for stakeholders across the distribution chain to come together to discuss the solutions needed to combat the challenges created by Omni-channel distribution.
